Catalogue of Publications

issued by the Government of the United States

during the month of January, 1895

Prepared by the
Superintendent of Documents
Government Printing Office

Washington
Government Printing Office
1895

Authority for Publication

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the Public Printing and Binding and the Distribution of Public Documents, approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

Sales of Public Documents

Section 61 of the same act provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Many of those upon which a price has been put are furnished gratuitously by the Departments publishing them. A list of the offices where the various documents are obtainable appears at the end of the Catalogue. When the law becomes fully operative, all current documents and many old ones will be for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, but thus far only a small part of those described in this Catalogue have come into his custody.

Preface

This initial number of what it is hoped may be a long series of official Monthly Catalogues of the Public Documents of the United States is sent to all the Government Departments, bureaus, and offices that issue publications, to the several hundred libraries that are designated depositories of public documents, and to many librarians, scientists, and men of affairs throughout the country, for the purpose of inviting helpful criticism as to its form, arrangement, and contents.

It is especially desired that omissions be promptly pointed out, in order that the missing titles may be printed in the next monthly issue. There are about one hundred and twenty Departments, bureaus, and offices of the Government that publish the public documents of the United States, and even with the courteous cooperation that has been almost uniformly extended to me it is a task of some magnitude to gather all the publications from so many sources. If the task had been completely accomplished, and there were absolutely no omissions from the first Monthly Catalogue, it would be almost miraculous. As this is not the age of miracles, some omissions will doubtless be detected, but I am hopeful that they will be neither numerous nor important. When the arrears of work under the pressure of which this new office begins its operations shall have been overtaken, and it shall thus have become possible to publish the Monthly Catalogue immediately on the heels of the current issues for each month, it is confidently believed that omissions of titles will be exceedingly rare.

Criticism, and even censure, of the arrangement of the Monthly Catalogue is expected. It is probable that most librarians will say it should have followed the lines of a strictly scientific "dictionary-catalogue." The departure from those lines has been deliberately and purposely made. It is considered that the Monthly Catalogue is an ephemeral publication, not intended primarily for the use of librarians. It is the chief medium this office will have for reaching the general public, to whom hereafter all the Government publications are to be offered for sale at the cost of paper, presswork, and binding, the large item of typesetting being by law excluded when the price of public documents is fixed. The arrangement adopted for the Catalogue is that which it was thought will be most intelligible and convenient to the manufacturer, statistician, farmer, attorney, legislator, and business man—the classes which, in increasing numbers, are seeking to make practical use of the scientific research and the statistical collection and collation whose results are recorded in the public documents. It has been assumed that in a majority of cases the searcher for information in the Monthly Catalogue will have an idea as to which bureau, or at least which Department, has in charge the particular class of information for which he is seeking, and that an arrangement by Departments and bureaus will therefore serve the convenience of the greatest number. It was not thought necessary particularly to consult the convenience of librarians in the form of the Monthly Catalogue. Their trained skill will enable them readily to find what they desire in a list of this sort, so small in dimensions, without appreciable inconvenience.

For the use of librarians the Monthly Catalogue will be practically superseded by the Annual Catalogue (or "comprehensive index"), which this office is directed to prepare on a plan approved by the Joint Committee on Printing and publish at the close of each session of Congress. To that publication considerations of a different nature from those which have been consulted in preparing the Monthly Catalogue will apply. It will be a permanent record, preserved in all the important libraries of the United States, and depended on as the key to the official history of the country, which without it would remain locked up in the public documents—almost inaccessible. Such a record should be prepared according to the most approved rules of bibliographical science. The task should be intrusted only to those highly trained and long experienced in cataloguing work. These considerations have been and will be kept in mind in preparing the Annual Catalogue, and those librarians who see in the Monthly Catalogue herewith presented only a "list," and not a catalogue in the scientific sense, will not therefore be justified in assuming that the forthcoming Annual Catalogue to be prepared by this office will be of a like popular and unscientific character.

It is intended that the Monthly Catalogues for February, March, and the succeeding months of the current calendar year shall follow each other in rapid succession, so that before the opening of the next session of Congress the publication will have become current. Every effort will thereafter be made to issue it with regularity at the beginning of each month.

Superintendent of Documents

NOTE.—The bills, resolutions, and reports published by authority of Congress during January, 1895, have been omitted from this Catalogue, because its record begins near the close of the third session of an expiring Congress, and a list so fragmentary as one beginning at that time must necessarily be could serve no valuable purpose. All the publications of the Fifty-third Congress will be fully catalogued in the Annual Catalogue, or so-called "comprehensive index," to be issued from this office later in the year, and all the publications of the Fifty-fourth Congress will be recorded in the several Monthly Catalogues to be issued during the sessions of that Congress.

They are issued as working editions for the use of geologists of the United States Geological Survey, and are not published for general distribution or for sale. About 900 sheets have been produced since 1883, covering more or less nearly every State and Territory. Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia are completely mapped. Some of the earlier maps are on a scale of 1 : 125,000 and 1 : 250,000.

Where Documents Are Obtainable

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is expected that it will be able to supply all ordinary demands for the purchase of the current documents and most demands for copies of the older documents. It will, however, be some time before this expectation can be entirely realized.

At present the State Department sells the Statute Laws, and the Bureau of American Republics, attached to the State Department, sells its own publications.

The Treasury Department sells the Catalogue of Copyrights, the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration by the Bureau of Statistics, and the publications of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The War Department sells the Rebellion Record.

The Post-Office Department sells the Postal Guide and the post-route maps.

The Navy Department sells the Naval War Records and the publications of the Nautical Almanac Office and the Hydrographic Office.

The Interior Department sells the numerous publications of the Census Office and the Patent Office; the Decisions and the maps of the Land Office; the reports, maps, monographs, and bulletins of the Geological Survey, and the Decisions of the Pension Office.

The Government Printing Office sells the Congressional Record; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the reports of the Fish Commission; the reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other powers, 1776–1887; second and third annual reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, 5 volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

All other Government publications, including the long and important list of the Agricultural Department, are issued for gratuitous distribution.

Authority for Publication

This monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the Public Printing and Binding and the Distribution of Public Documents, approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

Sales of Public Documents

Section 61 of the same Act provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the provisions of this section, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases these prices call for paper or cloth covers. For sheep binding the price will be increased from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos. For half turkey binding the cost is $1.00 a volume. Many of the documents upon which a price has been put in the Catalogue are furnished gratuitously by the Departments publishing them. A list of the offices where the various documents are obtainable appears at the end of the Catalogue. When the law becomes fully operative, all current documents and many old ones will be for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, but thus far only a small part of those described in this Catalogue have come into his custody.

Where Documents Are Obtainable

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is expected that it will be able to supply all ordinary demands for the purchase of the current documents and most demands for copies of the older documents. It will, however, be some time before this expectation can be entirely realized.

At present the State Department sells the Statute Laws, and the Bureau of American Republics, attached to the State Department, sells its own publications.

The Treasury Department sells the Catalogue of Copyrights, the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration from the Bureau of Statistics, and the publications of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The War Department sells the Rebellion Record.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps.

The Navy Department sells the Naval War Record and the publications of the Nautical Almanac Office and the Hydrographic Office.

The Interior Department sells the numerous publications of the Census Office and the Patent Office; the Decisions and maps of the Land Office; the reports, maps, monographs, and bulletins of the Geological Survey, and the Decisions of the Pension Office.

The Government Printing Office sells the Congressional Record; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poor's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the reports of the Fish Commission; the reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other powers, 1776–1887; second and third annual reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, 5 volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

All other Government publications, including the long and important list of the Agricultural Department, are issued for gratuitous distribution.

Authority for Publication

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the Public Printing and Binding and the Distribution of Public Documents, approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

Sales of Public Documents

Section 61 of the same act provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases these prices call for paper or cloth covers. For sheep binding the price will be increased from 75c to $1.15 for octavos and $1.50 for quartos. For half turkey binding the cost is $1.00 a volume. Many of the documents upon which a price has been put in the Catalogue are furnished gratuitously by the Departments publishing them. A list of the offices where the various documents are obtainable appears at the end of the Catalogue. When the law becomes fully operative, all current documents and many old ones will be for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, but thus far only a small part of those described in this Catalogue have come into his custody.

Where Documents Are Obtainable

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is expected that it will be able to supply all ordinary demands for the purchase of the current documents and most demands for copies of the older documents. It will, however, be some time before this expectation can be entirely realized.

At present the State Department sells the Statute Laws, and the Bureau of American Republics, attached to the State Department, sells its own publications.

The Treasury Department sells the Catalogue of Copyrights, the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration by the Bureau of Statistics, and the publications of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The War Department sells the Rebellion Record.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps.

The Navy Department sells the Naval War Record and the publications of the Nautical Almanac Office and the Hydrographic Office.

The Interior Department sells the publications of the Census Office; the Decisions and Maps of the General Land Office; the reports, maps, monographs, and bulletins of the Geological Survey: the Decisions of the Pension Office, and the numerous issues of the Patent Office. The average number of newly issued patents for which specifications are printed each week is 450. Copies of these specifications are sold at 10c each. A list of them appears weekly in the Patent Office Gazette, for which the subscription price is $5.00 a year.

The Government Printing Office sells the Congressional Record; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications: the reports of the Fish Commission; the reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition: Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other powers, 1776–1887; second and third annual reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, 5 volumes: Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Monthly Catalogue of Public Documents

APRIL, 1895

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This monthly catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act above quoted provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates: but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the provisions of this section, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases the prices here given call for paper or cloth covers, and a proportionate increase will be made for books in other kinds of binding. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. a volume; of cloth binding, from 10c. to 30c. a volume: of sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 a volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos: of half turkey binding, $1.00 a volume.

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is expected that it will be able to supply all ordinary

At present the State Department sells the Statute Laws, and the Bureau of American Republics, attached to the State Department, sells its own publications.

The Treasury Department sells the publications of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, made by the Bureau of Statistics, the latter at 15c. each, or $1.80 per year. The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights is published but not sold by the Treasury Department. It must be subscribed for through the collector of customs of the district in which the subscriber lives. The subscription price is $5.00 per year.

The War Department sells the Rebellion Record.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps.

The Navy Department sells the Naval War Record and the publications of the Nautical Almanac Office and the Hydrographic Office.

The Interior Department sells the publications of the Census Office, the Decisions and the maps of the General Land Office; the reports, maps, monographs, and bulletins of the Geological Survey; the Decisions of the Pension Office, and the numerous issues of the Patent Office. The average number of specifications of newly issued patents printed weekly is 450. They are sold at 10c. each. A list of them appears weekly in the Patent Office Gazette, for which the subscription price is $5.00 per year. The Land Decisions are numerous enough to make two volumes a year, usually of from 500 to 700 pages, and are sold at from $1.05 to $1.45. The volumes of Pension Decisions appear at irregular intervals, sometimes more than two years apart. They are sold at from 85c. to $1.10 each. Advance subscriptions at the rate of $1 a volume are received for both the Land Decisions and the Pension Decisions, in return for which the separate decisions are sent in unbound form as fast as issued.

The Government Printing Office sells the Congressional Record; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poor's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the reports of the Fish Commission; the reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other powers, 1776–1887; second and third annual reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, 5 volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Decisions in Land Cases

Abandoned military reservation; Fort Assiniboine. (Vol. 20, p. 416.)

Lands formerly embraced in Fort Assiniboine Military Reservation, and subsequently excluded therefrom by executive order, and also included within Indian lands ceded under agreement ratified by act of May 1, 1888, are not disposable under third section of said act, but under act of July 5, 1884, as part of abandoned military reservation.

Abandoned military reservations. Instructions. (Vol. 20, p. 303.)

In disposal of lands in abandoned military reservations, under act of Aug. 23, 1894, the time fixed for installment payments authorized by said act, and the interest thereon, should be uniform for all reservations opened to settlement under said act.

Additional homestead. Case of Horace J. Jackett. (Vol. 20, p. 360.)

Additional homestead entry under act of Mar. 2, 1889, is limited in acreage to an amount which, added to the quantity previously entered, shall not exceed 160 acres.

Application for leave of absence. Case of Walter E. Quaife. (Vol. 20, p. 340.)

Application for leave of absence will not be granted if it does not affirmatively appear that the applicant has shown good faith in residence upon and cultivation of land up to date of application.

Application to enter; appeal from rejection. Gallagher v. Jackson. (Vol. 20, p. 389.)

Application to enter land covered by existing entry of another confers no right upon the applicant; but application to enter improperly rejected at the time protects the rights of applicant against claims of others, if he appeals from such rejection.

Basis of patent; official record. Case of John R. Maxwell. (Vol. 20, p. 330.)

Application for patent based on alleged purchase of tract will not be granted, where, owing to war of 1861, there is no official record.

Burns, G. A., et al. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 295.)

Cameron v. Kline. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 317.)

Certiorari; rule 85 of practice; party in interest. Case of Henry D. Emerson. (Vol. 20, p. 287.)

Rule 85 of practice provides for a period of suspension of the Commissioner's decision in cases where right of appeal is denied, but is no limitation on power of Secretary to grant application for certiorari, even though it is not filed within said period.

Application for certiorari will be denied where it appears that applicant is not a claimant for the land involved under any of the public land laws.

Coal-land entry; adverse claim; final proof. Broad v. Ray. (Vol. 20, p. 422.)

Possessory claim under coal-land act must be maintained and asserted in good faith and for use and benefit of claimant only, to entitle him to be heard in his own right as against the application of another.

Final proof and payment on coal-land claim must be offered within one year after expiration of time allowed for filing declaratory statement.

Commuted homestead entry; equitable action. Case of Francis A. Lockwood. (Vol. 20, p. 361.)

Board of equitable adjudication has no authority to waive requirement of statute that permits commutation of a homestead only after period of fourteen months' residence and cultivation from date of entry, and confirm entry allowed in contravention of said statutory requirement.

Confirmation. Castello v. Bonnie (review). (Vol. 20, p. 311.)

Where entry has been canceled without due notice thereof to entryman or his transferee, and land covered thereby entered by another prior to act of Mar. 3, 1891, and said transferee invokes confirmatory provisions of section 7 thereof, claim of intervening entryman is subject only to right of said transferee to show that entry under which he claims was improperly canceled.

Confirmation; mortgage. United States v. Cooper et al. (Vol. 20, p. 403.)

Mortgagee is not entitled to invoke confirmatory provisions of section 7, act of Mar. 3, 1891, as an innocent incumbrancer, where at date of incumbrance records disclose the fact that entryman had disposed of land covered by his claim prior to submission of final proof and payment of purchase price.

Conflicting settlement rights; notice. O'Toole v. Spicer. (Vol. 20, p. 392.)

The fact that land is subdivided into 40-acre tracts does not operate to confine settlement right to subdivision on which settlement is actually made; but notice of settlement right, as given by improvements, is limited to quarter section on which improvements are situated.

Where two claimants settle simultaneously, and place improvements on the same 40-acre subdivision, the tract may be awarded to the highest bidder.

Contest; hearing; settlement right. Somers v. Heuer (review). (Vol. 20, p. 317.)

Irregular action of local office in ordering hearing should not be permitted to defeat right of settler to show facts with respect to his claim.

Contest; relinquishment; second contest. Westenhaver v. Dodds. (Vol. 20, p. 365.)

Relinquishment that conforms to requirements of act of May 14, 1880, should be filed on presentation, and entry canceled.

Ruling that does not permit relinquishment, filed after initiation of contest, but prior to notice, to defeat right of contestant to proceed against entry, is not applicable to a second contest filed subject to disposition of pending suit.

Crow Indian lands; price of land. Case of Andrew J. Torreyson. (Vol. 20, p. 399.)

Price of all lands formerly embraced within Crow Indian Reservation, to which title was secured by Government under agreement of Dec. 8, 1890, is fixed at $1.50 per acre.

Last proviso in section 34 of act of Mar. 3, 1891, respecting disposition of certain of these lands, contemplates confirmation of settlement claims otherwise invalid, but is not intended to excuse such settlers from payment required from others.

Desert-land contest; suspended entry. Farnell et al. v. Brown. (Vol. 20, p. 324.)

Suspended entry does not run during period of suspension, but does run from its date to suspension, and then again, as if without interruption, from date of order revoking suspension to expiration of term.

Desert-land entry; price of land. Case of Kate G. Organ. (Vol. 20, p. 406.)

Provisions of section 7 of act of Mar. 3, 1891, fixing price of desert lands at $1.25 per acre, are applicable to desert entry made prior to passage of said act, but not perfected until after.

Desert-land entry; saline land. Jeremy & Co. v. Thompson et al. (Vol. 20, p. 299.)

Desert-land entry will not be allowed of land chiefly for saline deposits thereon, and practically not susceptible of reclamation on account of saline character.

Entry in two land districts; suspended township. Case of Lemuel L. Squires. (Vol. 20, p. 412.)

Where homesteader applies to enter land situated in two land districts, and files simultaneously in each district application for specific subdivision lying within said land district, and one of said applications is allowed and the other rejected on account of suspension of township, the rejected application may be revived and allowed as of original date, on the removal of the suspension, and where it appears that applicant has remained in possession of land and no adverse claim exists.

Extension of time for payment; cases made special. Case of Parker V. Brown. (Vol. 20, p. 323.)

In applications for extension of time for payment under joint resolution of Sept. 30, 1890, cases should be treated as special, to the end that smallest possible time may elapse from date of application to final judgment.

Extension of time for payment; good faith. Case of William C. Brown. (Vol. 20, p. 378.)

Extension of time for payment may be granted on showing of failure of crops for which entryman is not responsible.

On showing to procure such extension good faith of applicant is not impugned by fact of having cultivated land other than his own in order to secure means for purchase of claim.

Forest reservation; executive order; school indemnity. Appeal by State of California. (Vol. 20, p. 327.)

Secretary of Interior may direct the withdrawal of land from disposal in order to preserve sequoias or other large trees growing thereon, and where land so withdrawn is unsurveyed and includes a school section, indemnity may be allowed State.

Homestead application; residence; improvements. Abbott v. Kelley. (Vol. 20, p. 295.)

Pending determination on appeal of right to make homestead entry, applicant is not required to make settlement and improvement where his claim rests on his application.

Homestead entryman is not in default in matters of residence and improvements where land is covered by prior uncanceled homestead entry of another who is in possession.

Homestead contest; leave of absence; improvements. Quein v. Lewis. (Vol. 20, p. 319.)

Leave of absence, regularly granted by local office and not disapproved by General Land Office, serves to protect settler while in effect and his absence thereunder does not afford ground for presumption against his good faith.

Allegation to effect that evidence on which leave of absence was obtained is false and fraudulent must be affirmatively established to warrant favorable action thereon.

Failure of homesteader to make a living on his land is not necessarily evidence of lack of good faith.

Homestead law does not define character or value of improvements required at hands of settler.

Homestead entry; adverse town-site claim. Pope v. Town site of Bossko. (Vol. 20, p. 367.)

Town-site claim set up to defeat homestead entry will not be held sufficient to reserve land from appropriation under the homestead law when the land was not occupied for town-site purposes at inception of homestead right and has not been so occupied subsequent thereto.

Homestead entry; final proof; protest; contest; practice. Gray v. Dawkins. (Vol. 20, p. 342.)

The fact that a party styles his adverse proceeding against a homestead entry at the time of final proof thereon a "protest" will not defeat his right as a contestant where he files at such time a corroborated charge, pays the costs, and claims preferred right under act of May 14, 1880; nor can entryman in such case defeat said proceedings by withdrawal of final proof.

Where, on application for continuance, on ground of absent witnesses, adverse party admits that said witnesses, if present, would "testify to the statement set out," the applicant is not prejudiced by denial of application.

There is no law or rule of the Department that warrants local officers in extending time for taking final proof beyond ten days from time set in the advertisement.

Homestead entry; Indian reservation. Case of Nathaniel J. Humphrey. (Vol. 20, p. 414.)

Homestead entry of land included within an executive order directing survey for purpose of establishing Indian reservation may stand where the subsequent order creating said reservation omits land so entered.

Homestead entry; village occupancy; confirmation. Case of Francisco Mirabal. (Vol. 20, p. 346.)

Occupancy of a small portion of a subdivision of public land, under form of a Mexican village settlement, will not operate to except the tract from homestead entry if land so occupied is not used for purposes of trade and business and no claim thereto is asserted under town-site laws.

Agreement of homesteader in such case to protect village settlers in occupancy does not render entry speculative nor bring it within intent of statute which provides that entry shall not be made for benefit of another where it is apparent that said occupancy is not at instance of entryman.

Claim of confirmation under section 7, act of Mar. 3, 1891, will not be considered where entry is found regular and legal.

Homestead; preliminary affidavit; Indian homestead. Kribs v. Millen et al. (Vol. 20, p. 300.)

Homestead entry, based on preliminary affidavit executed before clerk of court on false allegation of "distance" from land office, and filed by mail to secure advantage over applicants in person, will not be permitted to stand.

An Indian half-breed may exercise homestead right conferred by act of July 4, 1884, on railroad lands forfeited and restored to entry by act of Sept. 29, 1890.

Indian settlement claim; railroad grant. Palouse v. Oregon and California R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 401.)

Prior to act of Mar. 3, 1875, there was no law authorizing settlement or conferring right of entry under the public land laws upon Indians, as such, who had severed their tribal relations, and where a settlement right is set up on behalf of an Indian to defeat operation of a railroad grant at a time prior to said act it must be made to appear that said Indian was a citizen.

Where a tract of land is apparently subject to operation of railroad grant, but the company treat it as excepted therefrom and select indemnity therefor, selection may stand on condition that company relinquish basis.

Isolated tract; homestead entry. Case of John M. Nettles. (Vol. 20, p. 407.)

Order directing sale of an island as an isolated tract excludes the land from appropriation under the homestead law.

Kime v. Smith. Motion for rehearing denied. (Vol. 20, p. 288.)

Langford v. Butler. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 350.

McDonald et al. v. Hartman et al. Motion for review dismissed. (Vol. 20, p. 324.)

Military bounty land warrant. McNamara v. Lombardy. (Vol. 20, p. 341.)

Where military bounty land warrant is used in payment for land, and said warrant is subsequently canceled on ground of fraudulent assignment thereof, a bona fide assignee of the entryman may be permitted to substitute cash in lieu of the canceled warrant.

Mineral land; mining claim; expenditure. Sweeney v. Northern Pacific R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 394.)

Location of a mining claim in conformity with law on land returned as agricultural raises a presumption that the land is mineral, and burden of proof is thereafter with anyone alleging agricultural character.

In case of application for mineral patent that embraces several lode claims proof should show an expenditure of $500 on each claim, except where it is shown that improvement on one of such claims is for common benefit of all.

Northern Pacific R. R. Co. v. White. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 290.)

Oklahoma town lot; abandonment. Betts et al. v. Townley. (Vol. 20, p. 425.)

Town-lot claimant who vacates lot in obedience to award made by a citizens' committee can not be held by such action to have voluntarily abandoned his claim.

Oklahoma town lot; officer. Miller v. Barnes et al. (Vol. 20, p. 310.)

Purchaser of a possessory interest in an Oklahoma town lot who is at such time and at date of town-site entry receiver of a land office is disqualified from acquiring title.

Order of cancellation; reinstatement. Pehling v. Brewer. (Vol. 20, p. 363.)

Entryman who fails to appeal from decision canceling his entry and permits said decision to become final is not entitled to reinstatment of his entry in the presence of an intervening adverse right.

Osage land; alienation; confirmation. Case of William Randolph. (Vol. 20, p. 411.)

Fourth section of act of May 28, 1880, recognizes right of an Osage entryman to sell land covered by his entry after submission of final proof and payment of first installment of purchase price.

Entry may be confirmed under body of section 7, act of Mar. 3, 1891, as to specific subdivision held by a transferee, and under proviso as to remainder of land, if no action adverse to the entry has been taken within period fixed by statute.

The fact that an Osage entryman had previously made a preemption filing does not defeat confirmation under said section.

Patent; erroneous description of land. Case of Hans P. Hanson. (Vol. 20, p. 376.)

Where a patent is issued that includes land not embraced in patentee's entry, new patent may issue with correct description, on surrender of former patent, with evidence that patentee has not sold or encumbered the land.

Pickard v. Cooley. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 419.)

Practice; appeal; preemption; preference right. Sielaff v. Richter's heirs et al. (Vol. 20, p. 396.)

Failure to appeal from an adverse decision of the local office defeats right of appeal from action of General Land Office.

Contestant who secures preference right of entry prior to repeal of pre emption law and is at such period residing on the land with intent to preempt the same has a claim thereto lawfully initiated.

Preferred right of successful contestant will not be defeated by intervening entry allowed without notice to said contestant.

Practice; appeal; specification of errors. McNeice v. Gale. (Vol. 20, p. 329.)

Appeal will not be entertained in absence of clear specification of errors.

Practice; contest; joint opinion of local officers. Knight v. Deaver. (Vol. 20, p. 387.)

Provisions of rule 51 that require register and receiver to render joint report and opinion on termination of a contest do not deprive General Land Office or Department of authority to consider a case on its merits where the receiver fails to join in said report and opinion.

Practice; contest; rehearing; evidence. Croal et al. v. Boetler. (Vol. 20, p. 369.)

In ordering a rehearing the Commissioner may direct submission of testimony taken at former hearing.

A party in whose interest a rehearing has been ordered, who does not submit evidence, but relies on a technical defense, must abide by his election in event of unfavorable judgment.

Practice; decision on review; timber-land application. State of California v. Nickerson. (Vol. 20, p. 391.)

On denial of motion for review of a decision that refuses reinstatement of an entry, the land involved is thereupon subject to entry.

Application to purchase timber land does not operate to segregate the land.

Practice; hearing; discretion of Commissioner. Town of Amargo v. Vorhang. (Vol. 20, p. 359.)

Secretary of Interior will not interfere with discretion of Commissioner in refusing to order a hearing unless there is an abuse of discretion.

Practice; hearing; mineral character of land. Dargin et al. v. Koch. (Vol. 20, p. 384.)

Final decision of the Department in which a tract of land is held to be mineral is only conclusive up to the period covered by the inquiry.

Practice; notice by publication; transferee. Charles C. McIver, ex parte, and Nevview v. Rock et al. (Vol. 20, p. 380.)

As prerequisite to service by publication it must appear that personal service can not be obtained; in absence of such showing order for publication is not authorized.

Practice; right of appeal from the General Land Office. Kearns v. Baldwin. (Vol. 20, p. 375.)

In absence of an appeal taken in time from a decision of the local office, or valid excuse for such default, there is no right of appeal to the Department if said decision is affirmed by the Commissioner.

Preemption contest; preferred right of contestant. Denman v. Domenigoni. (Vol. 20, p. 325.)

One who appears at time fixed for submission of preemption final proof, files a charge against alleged right of entry on part of preemptor, pays costs of proceedings, and secures a favorable judgment, is entitled to the status of a successful contestant.

Preemption; minor heirs; transmutation. Beck v. Steinhaus's heirs. (Vol. 20, p. 409.)

Where a preemptor dies leaving an unperfected preemption claim, it is lawful for the minor heirs to transmute the filing to a homestead entry.

Railroad grant: indemnity selection; adverse claim. Case of Alabama and Chattanooga R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 408.)

A railroad indemnity selection not susceptible of approval at the time made, on account of a prior adverse claim, may be approved when such claim is relinquished.

Railroad grant; settlement right; indemnity selection. Northern Pacific R. R. Co. v. Jackson. (Vol. 20, p. 288.)

Within indemnity limits of Northern Pacific grant the company has no claim, prior to selection, that will defeat acquisition of a settlement right.

Application of settler to purchase land settled upon from railroad company will not preclude his subsequently asserting settlement right thereto.

Application to enter erroneously rejected and pending an appeal, is a bar to the subsequent selection of the tract as indemnity.

Railroad grant; withdrawal on general route; reservation. Case of Northern Pacific R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 332.)

Withdrawal on general route for benefit of Northern Pacific grant is "from sale, entry, and preemption" only, and does not debar the Executive from the exercise of his ordinary authority in the establishment of an Indian reservation; and lands so reserved are excepted from the operation of the grant and revert to the public domain on cession thereof by Indians.

Railroad lands; heirs. Tobin v. Rorke. (Vol. 20, p. 313.)

Right to perfect title by licensees of a railroad company descends to the heirs of the licensee.

Rehart, S. V., case of. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 414.)

Repayment; good faith of entryman. Case of William Waible. (Vol. 20, p. 374.)

Repayment may be granted where final proof is held insufficient and entry canceled if it appears that entryman acted in good faith.

Repayment; mining claim; foreign corporation. Case of Mary McM. Latham. (Vol. 20, p. 379.)

Repayment will not be allowed on a canceled mineral entry secured through fraudulently suppressing the fact that said entry was for the benefit of a foreign corporation.

Reservation; executive order; entry. Case of California Loan and Trust Co. (Vol. 20, p. 372.)

Failure of the local office, in noting an order of reservation, to include a tract of land actually embraced in said order will not defeat the reservation as to said tract.

Second homestead entry. Case of Tonyes H. Linneman. (Vol. 20, p. 308.)

Right to make a second homestead entry may be recognized when first is relinquished on account of arid and unproductive character of land.

Settlement before survey; notice. Luke v. Birdwell. (Vol. 20, p. 338.)

Notice of a settlement claim given by improvements on unsurveyed land extends only to technical quarter section on which improvements may be found.

Notice to settler before survey of contingent claim on part of one who has not reduced land to possession will not serve to defeat right of settler.

Soldier's additional homestead; certificate of right. Case of J. S. Pillsbury et al. (review). (Vol. 20, p. 419.)

Act authorizing a purchaser under a soldier's certificate of additional right to perfect title by paying Government price of land, where said certificate is found invalid, is not applicable to case wherein certificate is held under a fraudulent power of attorney, and where an adverse claim thereto is asserted and exercised by soldier in person.

Soldier's declaratory statement; contestant; Oklahoma lands. Mullen v. Porter. (Vol. 20, p. 334.)

Standing of one who files soldier's declaratory statement for a tract covered by prior settlement right of another that is subsequently asserted in form of entry will not defeat preferred right of contestant who successfully attacks said entry.

Right of contestant to proceed against entry is not defeated by relinquishment filed prior to hearing.

Soldier's declaratory statement, filed for tract of land in Oklahoma by agent who entered said territory prior to time fixed therefor, is illegal and confers no right on claimant.

Survey; meander line of lake. Case of Watson H. Brown. (Vol. 20, p. 315.)

Land lying between a properly established meander line of a lake and shore line of water is not unsurveyed land.

Timber-culture entry; acreage subject to entry. Case of Elbert S. Lamon. (Vol. 20, p. 337.)

Timber-culture entry is limited to one-fourth the land embraced in section except where such entry is of a technical quarter section.

Umatilla lands; additional entry; conveyance. Case of Cozbi Townsend. (Vol. 20, p. 428.)

Right to make additional entry of Umatilla lands conferred upon persons whose claims were made fractional by boundary line of reservation crossing same may be exercised by widow of homesteader.

Where homesteader conveys his interest in homestead tract to his wife, as his widow, for purpose of avoiding expense that would attend settlement of his estate, the instrument so executed, though in form of a deed, must be regarded as testamentary.

Umatilla lands; compliance with law. Case of Charles O. Fanning. (Vol. 20, p. 297.)

Under a purchase of untimbered Umatilla land, where payments therefor are made in time, but proof with respect to residence and cultivation is unsatisfactory, the entry is not defeated thereby, but should be suspended until purchaser may furnish proof.

Umatilla lands; cultivation; grazing land. Case of John M. Allen. (Vol. 20, p. 362.)

Use of land for grazing purposes by entryman is sufficient compliance with law as to cultivation, if land is better suited to such use than to raising crops; and it is not material whether stock is property of entryman.

Winn v. Saunders et al. Motion for review denied. (Vol. 20, p. 286.)

Decisions in Pension Cases

Accrued pension; reimbursement. Case of Malissa Ray. No. 221.

The act of Mar. 2, 1895, makes provision for reimbursement of the person who bore expenses of last sickness and burial of a widow pensioner or applicant, who left no minor child of pensionable age, out of the accrued pension due such pensioner to date of her death, provided she did not leave sufficient assets to meet such expense.

Attorneys; no service, no fees. Case of Martin J. Craiglow. No. 210.

The rule that what is done in an attorney's time is to be credited to him is subject to the further rule that before one attorney may profit by the work performed by another he must render some material and necessary service Mere right to recognition does not give title to fee. The rule is, no service, no fee.

Attorney's rights on death of claimant. Case of Americus Mayo. No. 214.

1. Where a claim for pension is pending and the applicant dies, the attorney of record will be permitted to proceed under his original contract and prosecute the claim to adjudication.

2. If the claim be rejected and he desires to file evidence with a view to reopening, or to appeal, he must obtain a power of attorney from the widow or person next in order of succession.

Attorneyship; increase act of June 27, 1890; priority. Case of Isaac Turner. No. 212.

Inability to earn support by manual labor is the sole basis of pension under section 2 of act of June 27, 1890, and where pension has been granted because of partial inability, any newly alleged cause of disability is but contributory. A claim based on such cause is a claim for straight increase, no matter how many declarations may have been filed, how many causes alleged, or how many attorneys employed.

Attorneyship; priority. Case of Thomas Bean. No. 213.

1. Where a claim for pension under section 2 of act of June 27, 1890, is rejected, attorney of record is allowed ninety days to take steps necessary to reopening.

2. If attorney of record shall have taken such steps, and within the time allowed him a new declaration be filed by a second attorney, such filing is contributory service on the part of the latter and is to be credited to the former.

3. If the original attorney fails to take the action required for the purpose of reopening, but instead files a new declaration, such failure is to be considered as an abandonment, and his position is the same as that of an attorney who has had no previous connection with the case.

4. After rejection and abandonment that attorney will acquire title to recognition who first files a sufficient declaration and valid power of attorney.

Assignment of attorneyship; acknowledgment. Case of James Sullivan. No. 211.

Where an attorney filed an application for pension under act of June 27 1890, alleging disability resulting in partial inability to earn support by manual labor, and does not neglect the claim, and another attorney files a declaration in which a different cause is alleged, and upon adjudication both causes are accepted as contributing to inability, on allowance of pension the first attorney is entitled to recognition.

Dependence. Case of Jason W. Cleveland. No. 216.

Father of deceased soldier has no pensionable status under act of June 27, 1890, during the lifetime of soldier's mother.

Dependent parent; remarriage. Case of Sarah N. Chase. No. 217.

Soldier's mother who has remarried after his death, and filed claim for dependent mother's pension subsequent to July 1, 1880, and prior to June 27, 1890, has no pensionable status.

Desertion; commencement of pension. Case of Charles T. Garrard. No. 219.

Claim was filed October 9, 1889, while claimant was in desertion, and therefore had no status. Claimant was finally discharged September 15, 1892: his pension was properly made to commence at the date of filing a declaration after he was discharged.

Service in and close of war of rebellion. Case of Edward Farrell et al. No. 215.

1. Enlistments in loyal States after Apr. 13, 1865, will not be deemed enlistments in or for the war of the rebellion.

2. Enlistment in any other of the States, Territories, or District of Columbia made after June 1, 1865, of white or colored troops, will not be deemed an enlistment in or for the war of the rebellion.

3. Enlistments in the United States Navy after July 1, 1865, were not enlistments in or for the war of the rebellion.

NOTE.—This is one of the most important of the series of pension decisions, as it fixes the official date of the closing of the civil war.

Specific disability; commencement of pension. Case of George W. Keith. No. 220.

When a nonspecific becomes a permanent specific disability, claimant is entitled to the proper rate of pension upon the date it becomes such, regardless of the date of medical examination.

NOTE.—No. 218, originally issued in April, was recalled for further consideration, and has not yet been reissued.

They are issued as working editions for the use of geologists of the United States Geological Survey, and are not published for general distribution or for sale. About 900 sheets have been produced since 1883, covering more or less every State and Territory. Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia are completely mapped. Some of the earlier maps are on a scale of 1:125,000 or 1:250,000.

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of May, 1895

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents. approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act above quoted provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos, and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized, and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is presumed that it will be able to supply all ordinary demands for the purchase of the current documents, and most demands for copies of the older documents. It will, however, be some time before this expectation can be entirely realized.

The existing arrangements for disposing of public documents are quite varied, but it is believed that the following statement describes all their important features. It is, however, made subject to correction as more detailed information may be received:

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 a year.

The charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy sells the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies. The Superintendent of Naval War Records is the officer in immediate charge of the publication.

The charts, sailing directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, Beacon and Buoy List, Light List, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington, and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.), Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland.

The Nautical Almanac and other astronomical publications are sold by the Superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, Department of the Navy, and by agents of the Nautical Almanac Office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Almanac is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. Paper-covered editions are sold for half this price by the agents, but only the cloth edition is sold by the office itself.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, though not at regular periods, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have an extensive and important list of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, and of the Geological Survey.

The publications of the Geological Survey include annual reports, monographs, bulletins, and atlases, which cost from 25c. to $4.50 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and in monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

All the publications of the Agricultural Department are for free distribution, except the Monthly Review of the Weather Bureau, which is sold at 10c. a copy. For the publications of this Bureau and all others of the Department of Agriculture application should be made directly to the Secretary of Agriculture.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor, the Bureau of Education, and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress, but they are in so much demand that back numbers are scarce and difficult to obtain, while complete sets are practically unattainable.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal money orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

Department of the Interior

Decisions in land cases

Additional homestead entry; approximation. Case of F. A. Taft. (Vol. 20, p. 448.)

In determining acreage that may be taken as additional homestead entry, the rule of approximation is applicable.

Alaska; sale of public lands. Instructions. (Vol. 20, p. 434.)

Persons or corporations may purchase only so much land as is actually used for trade or manufactures, in no case to exceed 160 acres.

The language of the act, "to be taken as near as practicable in a square form," means that the land shonld be laid off as nearly square as practicable, but not to interfere with the occupancy of any other qualified person or corporation.

Desert-land declaration. Case of Hoge Wilson. (Vol. 20, p. 482.)

Act of Aug. 4, 1894, validates entries based on preliminary affidavits before United States court commissioners instead of United States circuit court commissioners, if no other objection exists.

A desert-land declaration, and affidavits therewith, made outside of the county in which the land is situated, are invalid.

Desert-land entry; final proof; partial reclamation. Rider v. Atwater. (Vol. 20, p. 449.)

Proof of reclamation on a desert-land entry must show that the claimant is in possession of a permanent water supply sufficient to effect reclamation.

When proof shows reclamation as to a part of the land, and failure to effect proper irrigation of the remainder, the entry may be approved as to tracts reclaimed, and canceled as to remainder.

District of Columbia; regulations of Mar. 31, 1894, amended. Order. (Vol. 20, p. 435.)

Indian lands; occupancy for mission purposes. Case of A. J. Glorieux. (Vol. 20, p. 462.)

The Secretary of the Interior may confirm occupancy of land for religious or educational work among Indians, whenever such action is for their welfare, and the lands are subject to allotment. If such occupancy subsequently appears not to the interest of the Indians, the Secretary may direct discontinuance.

—— Spokane Indians; final proof. Case of Obed Jacobs. (Vol. 20, p. 508.)

Fourth article of agreement with Spokane Indians does not relieve said Indians from any requirement in matter of final proof except as to residence on the land.

Jenkins et al. v. Dreyfus; motion for review of Departmental decision of Oct. 10, 1894, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 450.)

Mining claim; alumina; agricultural claim. Jordan v. The Idaho Aluminium Mining and Manufacturing Co. (Vol. 20, p. 500.)

Alumina is not such a mineral as will except the land containing the same from settlement and entry as agricultural land or warrant the allowance of a mineral entry thereof.

—— Discovery shaft. E. W. Williams et al. (Vol. 20, p. 458.)

A mineral entry can not be allowed upon discovery of a lode within the limits of a prior patented lode claim.

—— Placer location; expenditure. Clark v. Taylor. (Vol. 20, p. 455.)

The fact that part of the work required by law on a placer claim is performed prior to location, and while it is held as agricultural land, does not call for cancellation of entry, where full amount of work required by law is performed prior to entry, and good faith is apparent, and no adverse claim exists.

Northern Pacific R. R. Co. v. Flannery; motion for review of Departmental decision of Feb. 23, 1895, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 466.)

—— Same v. Knudson; same ruling. (Vol. 20, p. 499.)

Oklahoma lands; Cherokee Outlet; settlement rights. Cagle v. Mendenhall. (Vol. 20, p. 446.)

Action of the Department in forbidding persons from making the run into the lands of the Cherokee Outlet, on the day of the opening, from Indian reservations on the eastern boundary, is not inconsistent with the statute authorizing the disposal of said lands, and one who violates said order is disqualified as a settler.

Oklahoma town lots; occupancy. McGregor v. McGranahan. (Vol. 20, p. 480.)

One within the Territory of Oklahoma at the hour of opening, and occupying at such time a tract of land, is disqualified thereby to enter said land even though within said Territory by lawful authority.

Occupancy of a town lot as basis of title thereto must be maintained, or due effort made to maintain it, until the date of the town-site entry.

—— Same; purpose of appropriation. Weathers v. Wallace. (Vol. 20, p. 495.)

Town lots may be taken either for business or residence purposes; and it is not material that the claimant owns other lots and intends all of them together as a homestead, and is using the lot applied for as a garden.

—— Same; occupancy. Knapp v. Kalklosch. (Vol. 20. p. 483.)

As between two claimants for a town lot, where one establishes and maintains occupancy in accordance with voluntary proposition of the other, such occupancy should be recognized as basis of title.

Pensacola and Louisville R. R. Co.; motion for review of Departmental decision of Dec. 5, 1894, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 448.)

Plat of survey; timber-land entry; contiguity of tracts. Case of Francis Gormley. (Vol. 20, p. 450.)

A decision of the General Land Office, based on plat of survey in said office, holding tracts of land to be noncontiguous, must be treated as conclusive, in absence of evidence showing error in plat.

An entry of timber and stone land can not be allowed to embrace noncontiguous tracts of land.

Practice; appeal; proceedings on final proof. Case of Patrick Fox. (Vol. 20, p. 468.)

Where entry is held for cancellation on report of special agent, subject to right of entryman to apply for hearing to show cause why entry should be sustained, entryman may decline to apply for hearing, and appeal to the Department.

Railroad grant; adjustment; lands reserved. Chapman et al. v. Burlington and Missouri River R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 496.)

The grant to this company in Nebraska contemplates that one-half the land shall be taken on each side of the road; but in adjustment of said grant the company has received more lands than it is entitled to, the excess lying on north side, and though suit is pending for recovery of said excess, and no more lands can be patented to the company, yet lands on south side of road, where grant is deficient, that were subject to the grant at definite location, are not open to entry, but subject to the action of the court.

—— Consolidation; mortgage sale. Doering v. Union Pacific Railway Co. (Vol. 20, p. 466.)

Act of Mar. 3, 1869, authorizing Union Pacific Railway Co., eastern division, to contract with Denver Pacific company for construction and operation of road between Denver and Cheyenne, is recognized in the Department and courts as authority for consolidation of said lines.

Provision in act incorporating Union Pacific Railway Co., that lands granted remaining unsold after three years from final completion of road should be subject to settlement and preemption, can not be enforced as against a mortgage on said lands wherein the fee is hypothecated to secure payment of a debt not yet due.

—— Selection; mining claim. Southern Pacific R. R. Co. v. Griffin et al. (Vol. 20, p. 485.)

Application for mineral patent should not be allowed where the land is covered by a railroad selection of record without due notice to the company.

Placer claims on surveyed lands must conform to legal subdivisions thereof.

—— Withdrawal on general route. Pritchard v. Northern Pacific R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 498.)

Statutory withdrawal on general route, under grant to this company, is not defeated nor impaired by an erroneous order of restoration issued by the General Land Office.

Railroad lands; forfeiture act; soldier's declaratory statement. Wickstrom v. Calkins et al. (Vol. 20, p. 459.)

An applicant for preferred right of entry accorded bona fide settlers who fails to appeal from the rejection of his application loses thereby whatever rights he may have been entitled to, and the heir of such an applicant can have no rights based on the settlement of deceased applicant.

The law authorizing filing of a soldier's homestead declaratory statement does not warrant rejection of a filing on the ground that it was received through the mails.

Reinstatement; confirmation. Craig v. Kromzzinski et al. (Vol. 20, p. 488.)

A canceled entry can not be reinstated for benefit of transferees on ground of its cancellation without notice to said parties, where it appears they were not entitled to notice and the adverse right of another has intervened.

Confirmatory provisions of sec. 7, act of Mar. 3, 1891, were not intended to disturb vested interests acquired prior to passage of said act.

Reservation; improvements. Instructions. (Vol. 20, p. 465.)

The Department will not consent to the erection of buildings on land reserved for Government use, when such improvements may form the basis of a demand against the United States.

Res judicata; school indemnity selection; settlement rights. Dohrman v. Krieger et al. (Vol. 20, p. 490.)

Commissioner of General Land Office has no authority to entertain motion for review of a decision that has become final for want of appeal

School indemnity selection can not be regarded as renewal of previous selection where neither base alleged nor land claimed are the same.

Conflicting settlement rights acquired prior to survey may be adjusted by allowance of an entry made under agreement on part of entryman to convey to the other claimant the land actually included within his possession.

Right of way; canal and reservoir. Case of South Platte and Reservoir Co. (Vol. 20, p. 464.)

Application for right-of-way privileges under act of Mar. 3, 1891, can not be approved where it appears that purpose of proposed pipe line and reservoir is to afford an auxiliary to waterworks of a city. Watering of gardens and lawns in a city during the summer is not the irrigation contemplated.

Sanders v. Parker; motion for review of Departmental decision of Dec. 24, 1894, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 449.)

Settlement on reserved land: conflicting settlement rights. Hunter v. Blodgett. (Vol. 20, p. 452.)

Settlement on land covered by entry of another confers no right against either Government or entryman, but as between two settlers on land thus reserved, the settlement first in point of time is entitled to highest consideration, in event of subsequent cancellation of said entry.

Act of settlement should consist of some substantial and visible improvement having the character of permanency. Setting stakes to mark foundation of a house will not be considered an act of settlement, where the stakes are so small as to be scarcely visible.

Turner v. Southern Pacific R. R. Co.; motion for review of Departmental decision of Jan. 3, 1893, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 452.)

Decisions in pension cases

Limitation; minor's pension; commencement. Hannah Hallowell, minor. (No. 227.)

The act providing pension for minor children of a soldier expressly limits the commencement of such pension to the date of filing the application. This claimant having attained the age of 16 years previous to passage of said act, there is no period during which pension may be paid.

Marriage; insanity. Mary J. Storms, widow. (No. 228.)

Soldier having been insane at the time of alleged marriage to appellant, she has no pensionable status, as, under laws of Michigan, where said marriage was celebrated, "all marriages solemnized when either of the parties was insane or an idiot are absolutely void, without any decree of divorce or legal process."

Suspension; accrued pension. Mary J. Rice, widow. (No. 229.)

Act of Dec. 21, 1893, relieves Commissioner of Pensions of power of suspending payment of pension pending proceeding to annul or reduce it, leaving the pension to accrue during that period, and to the pensioner the right to demand and receive payment at the times fixed for payments under the law. But when the decision of the Commissioner of Pensions is rendered, the effect thereof is to authorize withdrawal of payment, not only as to such illegal part which but for the decision might thereafter have accrued, but as to all unpaid pension adjudged illegal under that decision.

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of June, 1895

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of an act of Congress providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895.

SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act above quoted provides as follows:

The Superintendent of Documents so designated and appointed is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section.

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos, and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

When the office of the Superintendent of Documents has been fully organized, and all the provisions of law relating to it have become operative, it is presumed that it will be able to supply all ordinary demands for the purchase of the current documents, and most demands for copies of the older documents. It will, however, be some time before this expectation can be entirely realized.

The existing arrangements for disposing of public documents are quite varied, but it is believed that the following statement describes all their important features. It is, however, made subject to correction as more detailed information may be received:

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 a year.

The charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy sells the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies. The Superintendent of Naval War Records is the officer in immediate charge of the publication.

The charts, sailing directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, Beacon and Buoy List, Light List, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington, and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.), Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland.

The Nautical Almanac and other astronomical publications are sold by the Superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, Department of the Navy, and by agents of the Nautical Almanac office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Almanac is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. Paper-covered editions are sold for half this price by the agents, but only the cloth edition is sold by the office itself.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, though not at regular periods, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have an extensive and important list of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, and of the Geological Survey.

The publications of the Geological Survey include annual reports, monographs, bulletins, and atlases, which cost from 25c. to $4.50 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and in monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

All the publications of the Agricultural Department are for free distribution, except the Monthly Review of the Weather Bureau, which is sold at 10c. a copy. For the publications of this Bureau and all others of the Department of Agriculture application should be made directly to the Secretary of Agriculture.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor, the Bureau of Education, and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress, but they are in so much demand that back numbers are scarce and difficult to obtain, while complete sets are practically unattainable.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its publications free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency, as well as postal orders, if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

Decisions in land cases

Abandoned military reservation; act of February 15, 1895. Instructions to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. (Vol. 20, p. 568.)

Application to enter; appeal; settlement right. Summers v. Eagle. (Vol. 20, p. 550.)

Failure of applicant for public land to file a formal appeal from rejection of his application will not defeat his rights where by subsequent diligence he secures examination of record by General Land Office.

No rights on public land, as against adverse claimants, are secured by residence, where no steps are taken within proper time to protect alleged settlement right.

Coal land; declaratory statement. Case of Charles Lyon. (Vol. 20, p. 556.)

A coal land declaratory statement can not be filed for unsurveyed land.

Commutation of Oklahoma homestead for town site; school fund. (Vol. 20, p. 506.)

Sec. 22, act of May 2, 1890, contemplates payment to the town for school purposes, only of such sums as may be paid in commutation of homestead entries for town-site purposes on the purchase of the land at rate of $10 per acre.

Confirmation; sec. 7, act of Mar. 3, 1891. Day et al. v. Fogg. (Vol. 20, p. 553.)

Entry erroneously canceled prior to act of Mar. 3, 1891, without opportunity of defense given to entryman, or bona fide incumbrancers, must be regarded, so far as incumbrancers are concerned, as an existing entry, and therefore within confirmatory provisions of sec. 7.

Desert-land entry; order of suspension. Magner v. Lawrence (Vol. 20, p. 548.)

The Departmental rule that excludes from the period allowed for the reclamation of land within a desert entry such time as said entry may be suspended is within the scope of administrative authority, and not violative of the desert-land law.

Hensley, Martin; motion for review of decision of Jan. 30, 1895, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 522.)

Homestead entry; Oklahoma lands; rehearing. Brucker v. Buschmann. (Vol. 20, p. 557.)

Deed executed prior to making of homestead entry, purporting to convey land then owned by entryman, and apparently made for purpose of conveying title in trust for benefit of entryman, will not defeat inhibitory provision of statute limiting right of homestead entry to persons not owning 160 acres of land.

Rehearing will not be granted where it appears that on trial defendant rested his case on demurrer that was then overruled, and declined to introduce testimony on his own behalf.

—— Sec. 2, act of June 15, 1880. Quinn v. Tebay. (Vol. 20 p. 528.)

Motion for review that raises question not in issue at hearing or before General Land Office or Department on appeal will not be granted.

Term "homestead laws," as used in proviso to sec. 2, act of June 15, 1880, is employed in a generic sense, and will include and protect an intervening desert-land entry.

Johnson v. Leavenworth; motion for hearing in case denied. (Vol. 20, p. 527.)

Mineral lands, Classification of; accounts. Instructions to Commissioners to classify mineral lands. (Vol. 20, p. 522.)

—— Same. Instructions to Commissioner of General Land Office. (Vol. 20, p. 561.)

Mining claim; character of land. Crow v. Roberts. (Vol. 20, p. 564.)

Where hearing is asked in order to show alleged agricultural character of a tract held as a mining claim, and that has once been adjudged mineral in proceedings instituted to determine the character of the land, the agricultural claimant should be required to allege and prove the abandonment or forfeiture of the mining claim.

Mulligan v. Stalter; motion for review of decision of Mar. 19, 1895, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 526.)

Oklahoma town site; public park reserve. Case of Joseph E. Dolezal. (Vol. 20, p. 524.)

The approved survey of a town site, showing a reservation for public park precludes allowance of town-lot entry of land so reserved.

Practice; affidavit; attorney; officer. Werden v. Schlecht et al. (Vol, 20, p. 523.)

Affidavit of a party taken before his attorney, as notary public, will not be accepted by the Department.

An attorney will not be recognized in a case where it appears that he is an officer of the Department.

—— Appeal; review; application to enter. McMichael v. Murphy et al. (Vol. 20, p. 535.)

In computation of the time for appeal from General Land Office, where motion for review has intervened, appellant is entitled to ten days, independently of the same period given for filing review, where notices of Commissioner's action are sent through the mails by the local office.

Rights of an appellant are not prejudiced by negligence of the local officers.

Motion for review will not lie for consideration of a question not in issue when original decision was rendered.

No rights are secured under application to enter filed at a time when land is covered by record entry of another.

Application to enter land subject thereto is equivalent to actual entry so far as rights of applicant are concerned, and his heirs are entitled to complete the entry.

—— Application for certiorari; appeal. Blackwell Townsite v. Miner. (Vol. 20, p. 544.)

Application for certiorari will not be granted where it appears that decision of General Land Office rendered substantial justice in the premises even though right of appeal is wrongfully denied.

—— Rule 48; soldier's additional homestead; hearing. Hamrick v. Butts et al. and Hamrick v. Sheppard et al. (Vol. 20, p. 516.)

Failure to appeal from decision of local office will not preclude General Land Office from examination of facts where fraud or gross irregularity is suggested.

Soldier's additional homestead entry made under contract to sell land on issuance of final certificate should be canceled as speculative and fraudulent.

Acts of Mar. 3, 1893, and Aug. 18, 1894, do not contemplate perfection of soldier's additional homestead entry, made in person by soldier and without certificate of right.

Right of the Government to test validity of an entry in a direct proceeding is not defeated by failure in a collateral proceeding.

Preemption entry; sec. 2260, R. S. Case of James Cash. (Vol. 20, p. 508.)

Suit requested for recovery title where it appears that patent has issued to a preemptor that removed from land of his own in the same State to establish his residence on the preemption claim.

Railroad grant; lands excepted; homestead. Northern Pacific R. R. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 514.)

Land embraced within homestead entry at date of the granting act is excepted from operation thereof, whether perfected or not.

—— Sec. 1, act of Apr. 21, 1876. Northern Pacific R. R. Co. v. Crosswhite. (Vol. 20, p. 526.)

Confirmatory provisions of sec. 1, act of Apr. 21, 1876, are not limited to entries made prior to passage of act.

Railroad lands; sec. 4, act of Mar. 3, 1887. Ruth v. Union Pacific Ry. Co. (Vol. 20, p. 505.)

When a railroad company has sold and conveyed land improperly patented to it, and received payment, right of entry by the company's grantee, with or without payment of the Government price of the land, will not be recognized while the patent in the name of the company is outstanding.

The grantee of the company in such case may reconvey title to the company and the company to the Government, and so enable the Department to issue patent to said grantee.

Railroad right of way; tramroad. Instructions. (Vol. 20, p. 509.)

Sec. 2288, R. S., amended by act of Mar. 3, 1891, authorizing settlers to execute conveyances of lands for "railroad" right-of-way purposes, is applicable to "tramroads," used in mining, quarrying, and manufacturing lumber.

Rankin, John M.; motion for review of decision of Mar. 28, 1895, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 528.)

Repayment; homestead entry; fees and commission. Case of E. Zenker. (Vol. 20, p. 551.)

Where a second homestead entry is allowed, the fees and commission paid on the first can not be returned if said entry was not erroneously allowed.

Scrip location; equitable adjudication. Case of M. W. G. Burgess. (Vol. 20, p. 502.)

Preemption entry in which land is paid for with surveyor-general's scrip, under act of Jan. 28, 1879, may be referred to board of equitable adjudication, if application to locate was irregularly made for aggregate amount as one location, instead of separately for each piece.

Settlement before survey; homestead entry; heirs. Patton v. George. (Vol. 20, p. 533.)

Where settler on unsurveyed land dies prior to survey thereof, and homestead entry is subsequently made for the heirs, it should be made for the benefit of "the heirs or devisee" of the deceased settler.

Sioux half-breed scrip; location; tide lands. Dearborn v. Langie. (Vol. 20, p. 530.)

Location of Sioux half-breed scrip on unsurveyed land is permissible, but until Government survey is filed scrip location remains unadjusted, and as said surveys are not extended over tide-water lands, right acquired by such location is not sufficient to defeat the title of the State, by virtue of its inherent sovereignty over land within its limits below ordinary high-water mark.

Sioux Indian lands; allotment. Crow v. Knowles et al. (Vol. 20, p. 562.)

Right of an Indian under sec. 13, act of Mar. 2, 1889, to take as his allotment land on which he was residing at the time said act became effective, cuts off all intervening adverse claims.

State selection; lands restored to public domain. Case of State of Mississippi. (Vol. 20, p. 510.)

Right of State under act of June 20, 1894, to select lands for university purposes from those restored to public domain by act of Mar. 2, 1895, does not extend to lands restored by said act that were by terms thereof set apart for entry under town-site laws.

Supervisory jurisdiction; final proof proceedings. Langford v. Butler. (Vol. 20, p. 570.)

In absence of adverse claim and where showing of good faith is made, preemptor may be allowed to submit new final proof, where first is found irregular and insufficient.

Swineford et al. v. Piper; motion for review of decision of July 2, 1894, denied. (Vol. 20, p. 524.)

Timber-land entry; married women; transferee. Case of S. W. Tate. (Vol. 20, p. 552.)

In absence of adverse claim, timber-land entry made by married woman, and held by a transferee, will not be canceled for want of affidavit required of married woman on submission of final proof where her sole interest is set forth in preliminary affidavit, and in final proof it is alleged entry is made for her sole use and benefit, and where she refuses to make such affidavit except on payment of further sum by transferee.

—— Proof and payment. Case of J. M. McDonald. (Vol. 20, p. 559.)

There is no authority to allow a timber-land applicant, who has published notice of intention to purchase a tract, to republish the notice and thereafter make proof and payment, and thus in effect secure additional time.

Town-lot contest; survey; occupancy. J. F. McGrath et al. (Vol. 20, p. 542.)

Trustees of a town site have no authority to make a deed before tract has been surveyed and platted into lots and blocks, streets and alleys, nor are they authorized to make deed to portion of a street or alley, or to execute deeds to lots otherwise than as they are surveyed and platted.

One who takes possession of a town lot by force or fraud, or maintains occupancy as the tenant of another, is not thereby invested with a right to a deed, as against either his landlord or the rightful claimant.

Decisions in pension cases

Adulterous cohabitation. Case of Eliza Fain, widow. No. 231. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 572.)

Adulterous cohabitation of a widow subsequent to passage of act of Aug. 7, 1882, works forfeiture of her pension from the commencement of such cohabitation.

Deserter; discharge; res judicata. Case of Peter Kenney. No. 236. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 588.)

1. A soldier who is a deserter from the military service and has never been discharged is not pensionable under any law for any period subsequent to his said enlistment and desertion.

2. When a soldier was discharged to reenlist and did reenlist as a veteran volunteer, and thereafter deserted and never returned to or was discharged from the service, he is not pensionable under any law.

3. Where a pension certificate has been issued to such a deserter, under a misapprehension of the facts and contrary to law, the Secretary of the Interior has power to refuse payment thereon, and the doctrine of res judicata does not apply in such a case.

Disloyalty; evidence. Case of Aug. B. Longee. No. 235. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 586.)

1. Where there is a record of service in Confederate army, it will be presumed that service was voluntary, but such presumption may be rebutted.

2. Where service in Confederate army is shown by a claimant's record, the burden of proof is on him to show that such service was not voluntary.

3. Where the record shows that a claimant voluntarily engaged in the rebellion, his claim should be rejected.

4. A claimant who was conscripted into the Confederate army, and where from the record it appears that any service rendered was not voluntary, but wholly compulsory, he is excepted from the operation of section 4716, R. S.

5. The sufficiency of the evidence to rebut the presumption of voluntary service in the Confederate army must depend on the circumstances.

Fee agreement; indorsements. Case of C. V. Selkirk, claimant. No. 230. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 576.)

Writing on the face margin of a fee agreement, not referred to in the body thereof, is no part of such agreement, and will not be considered.

Fee; forfeiture; attorneyship. Case of John S. Keisor, claimant. No. 223. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 558.)

1. Where an attorney, entitled to information as to effect of evidence filed by him, has asked for such information, and the Bureau has failed to furnish it, such failure is error.

2. Where an attorney, entitled as aforesaid, has made proper call for status, subsequent filing of similar calls at intervals of a year or less is not necessary to preservation of his right to recognition.

Insanity; declaration; prochein ami. Case of Joseph Crawford, insane, by next friend. No. 232. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 582.)

A person non compos mentis, without a committee or guardian, may file a valid declaration for pension by a competent person as next friend, but before payment a guardian or committee must be appointed.

Jurisdiction; decree; divorce. Case of Susan McLeod, alleged widow. No. 237. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 590.)

A decree of divorce rendered by an Ohio court can not be set aside twenty two years thereafter, and eleven years after the death of one of the parties, by said court so as to give the woman so divorced a pensionable status.

Limitation; motions to reconsider; practice. Case of Byron L. Streeter. No. 238. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 594.)

Attorney will be allowed 90 days to file motion for reconsideration of a Departmental decision affirming action of Bureau of Pensions in rejecting claim, allowing unsatisfactory rate, or denying right to recognition or fee.

Marriage; evidence. Case of Rachel Harvey, alleged widow. No. 241. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 600.)

Claimant and soldier having been married when both were aware that soldier had a wife living from whom he had not been divorced, their cohabitation was illicit, and, in the absence of proof of a change to a matrimonial relation after soldier's wife procured a divorce, it will be presumed that the original illicit relation has continued, and she will be held not to be legal widow.

Rate; aid and attendance; insanity. Case of T. L. Hurst, insane. No. 234. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 583.)

A claimant, in a State hospital for the insane, who is unable to shave, bathe, or dress himself, is incapacitated for performance of manual labor, and who can not be permitted to go alone out of his ward, requires such aid and attendance as is contemplated by the act of July 14, 1892, so as to be entitled to a pension at the rate of $50 a month.

Restoration; service; act of June 27, 1890. Case of Joseph S. Edsall. No. 239. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 595.)

1. A pay clerk in the Navy is an officer in the naval service.

2. Appellant's name having been placed on pension roll under act of June 27, 1890, and never formally dropped, he is entitled to pension for such period as he was not in military or naval service.

Service; Revenue Marines; sec. 2757 R. S.; act of June 27, 1890. Case of David Oliver. No. 240. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 597.)

1. Those only are pensionable under section 2, act of June 27, or their widows and minor children under section 3, who were regularly enlisted men or officers in Army or Navy.

2. Those who served in the Revenue Marine on vessels which cooperated by direction of the President, with the Navy, were not in the Navy, and are not pensionable, nor their widows or minor children. Case of Louis Schaffer (vol. 6, p. 137), overruled in part.

Vicious habits; evidence. Case of John Martin. No. 233. (Pension Decisions, vol. 7, p. 578.)

1. Where a claimant, under section 2, act of June 27, 1890, can not furnish testimony of persons having knowledge of circumstances under which his disability was incurred, and there is nothing to create suspicion that it was caused by "vicious habits," his own affidavit, with testimony of two credible witnesses showing that he was a man of good habits, will suffice.

2. Where there are grounds for suspecting that the disability is a result of vicious habits the evidence necessary to overcome that suspicion will vary according to circumstances.

3. In general, where there is no ground for suspecting vicious habits, and claimant has been a man of good habits and repute for credibility, the presumption should be in favor of the claim.

These are but a small part of the whole, and they are printed in very limited editions for the use of the court and the attorneys in the several cases. No provision is made for their distribution or sale. The most important deliverances of the court, its decisions, have never been published by the Government. They are published by a private firm, three or four volumes appearing each year. There is a statutory requirement that they shall be sold at not more than $5.00 a volume, and 300 copies are sold to the Government at $2.00 a volume.

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of July, 1895

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61);—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has desired to be relieved of the sale of books sufficiently to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments has not much more than begun. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various departments of the Government at $2.00 per volume, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $5.00 per volume. The cases in suits to which the United States are a party are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its reports are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 a year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source and none may be for years to come. Only one volume has thus far been published. A few copies of that, in sheep binding, may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.), Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department); and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The Nautical Almanac and other astronomical publications are sold by the Superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, Department of the Navy, and by agents of the Nautical Almanac office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Almanac is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. Paper-covered editions are sold for half this price by the agents, but only the cloth edition is sold by the office itself.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the Geological Survey include annual reports, monographs, bulletins, and atlases, which cost from 25c. to $4.50 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The publications of the Department of Agriculture are for free distribution, except those of the Weather Bureau, which are sold. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them, which will be mailed to them on receipt of their application therefor by the Secretary of Agriculture. For the publications of the Weather Bureau, however, application should be made to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress, but they are in so much demand that back numbers are scarce and difficult to obtain, while complete sets are practically unattainable.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

The provision of law as to the publication and distribution of this Monthly Catalogue is that "2,000 copies shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution." There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, Bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course, the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. Requests for Catalogues have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. In all cases these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act hereinbefore quoted, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of August, 1895

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61);—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has desired to be relieved of the sale of books sufficiently to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments has not much more than begun. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various departments of the Government at $2.00 per volume, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $5.00 per volume. The cases in suits to which the United States are a party are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its reports are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 per year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine-Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source and none may be for years to come. Only one volume has thus far been published. A few copies of that, in sheep binding, may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.),

Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department); and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The Nautical Almanac and other astronomical publications are sold by the Superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, Department of the Navy, and by agents of the Nautical Almanac office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Almanac is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. Paper-covered editions are sold for half this price by the agents, but only the cloth edition is sold by the office itself.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the Geological Survey include annual reports, monographs, bulletins, and atlases, which cost from 25c. to $4.50 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The publications of the Department of Agriculture are for free distribution, except those of the Weather Bureau, which are sold. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them, which will be mailed to them on receipt of their application therefor by the Secretary of Agriculture. For the publications of the Weather Bureau, however, application should be made to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress, but they are in so much demand that back numbers are scarce and difficult to obtain, while complete sets are practically unattainable.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

The provision of law as to the publication and distribution of this Monthly Catalogue is that "2,000 copies shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution." There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, Bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course, the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. Requests for Catalogues have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Except as otherwise stated in the body of the Catalogue, these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act hereinbefore quoted, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of September, 1895

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61);—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has desired to be relieved of the sale of books sufficiently to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments has not much more than begun. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various Departments of the Government free of cost, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $2.00 per volume. The cases in suits in which the United States are not plaintiff in error or appellant are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court, and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its findings are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 per year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine-Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source, and none may be for years to come. Only one volume has thus far been published. A few copies of that, in sheep binding, may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.),

Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department), and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The Nautical Almanac and other astronomical publications are sold by the Superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, Department of the Navy, and by agents of the Nautical Almanac office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Almanac is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. Paper-covered editions are sold for half this price by the agents, but only the cloth edition is sold by the office itself.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the United States Geological Survey include annual reports, which are intended for free distribution, and monographs, bulletins, and folios of the Geologic Atlas of the United States, which cost from 5c. to $11.00 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The publications of the Department of Agriculture are for free distribution, except those of the Weather Bureau, which are sold. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them, which will be mailed to them on receipt of their application therefor by the Secretary of Agriculture. For the publications of the Weather Bureau, however, application should be made to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress, but they are in so much demand that back numbers are scarce and difficult to obtain, while complete sets are practically unattainable.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

The provision of law as to the publication and distribution of this Monthly Catalogue is that "2,000 copies shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution." There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution, nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course, the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. Requests for Catalogues have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Except as otherwise stated in the body of the Catalogue, these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act hereinbefore quoted, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

Catalogue of Public Documents

Printed During the Month of October, 1895

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61);—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has desired to be relieved of the sale of books sufficiently to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments has not much more than begun. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various Departments of the Government free of cost, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $2.00 per volume. The cases in suits in which the United States are not plaintiff in error or appellant are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court, and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its findings are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State distributes gratuitously the Consular Reports and other Departmental publications and sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 per year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine-Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source, and none may be for years to come. Only one volume has thus far been published. A few copies of that, in sheep binding, may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.),

Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department), and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The "American Ephemeris and Nautical Almanac," the "Nautical Almanac" extracted from this publication, and other astronomical publications of the Nautical Almanac Office, are sold by the Director of the Nautical Almanac, U. S. Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C., and by agents of that office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Ephemeris is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. The Nautical Almanac is sold for half this price by the agents.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the United States Geological Survey include annual reports, which are intended for free distribution, and monographs, bulletins, and folios of the Geologic Atlas of the United States, which cost from 5c. to $11.00 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The publications of the Department of Agriculture are for free distribution, except those of the Weather Bureau, which are sold. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them, which will be mailed to them on receipt of their application therefor by the Secretary of Agriculture. For the publications of the Weather Bureau, however, application should be mad to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

The publications of the Department of Labor and the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress. They are in much demand, and complete sets can not much longer be supplied.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery Drill Regulations.

Remittances to the Public Printer should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. Except for some of the publications of the Hydrographic Office, the prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.

The provision of law as to the publication and distribution of this Monthly Catalogue is that "2,000 copies shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution." There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution, nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. Requests for Catalogues have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Except as otherwise stated in the body of the Catalogue, these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act hereinbefore quoted, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

General Note

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution, nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. Requests for Catalogues have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act hereinbefore quoted provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Except as otherwise stated in the body of the Catalogue, these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61);—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has desired to be relieved of the sale of books sufficiently to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments has not much more than begun. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various Departments of the Government free of cost, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $2.00 per volume. The cases in suits in which the United States are not plaintiff in error or appellant are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court, and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its findings are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

The Department of State distributes the Consular Reports and other Departmental publications gratuitously, but sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 per year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine-Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source, and none may be for years to come. Two volumes have thus far been published. A few copies of the first in sheep binding may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.), Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department), and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The "American Ephemeris and Nautical Almanac," the "Nautical Almanac" extracted from this publication, and other astronomical publications of the Nautical Almanac Office, are sold by the Director of the Nautical Almanac, U. S. Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C., and by agents of that office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Ephemeris is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. The Nautical Almanac is sold for half this price by the agents.

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the United States Geological Survey include annual reports, which are intended for free distribution, and monographs, bulletins, and folios of the Geologic Atlas of the United States, which cost from 5c. to $11.00 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The publications of the Department of Agriculture are for free distribution, except those of the Weather Bureau, which are sold. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them, which will be mailed to them on receipt of their application therefor by the Secretary of Agriculture. For the publications of the Weather Bureau, however, application should be made to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. Congress of the United States

NOTE.—Should all the bills and resolutions which are introduced in Congress be catalogued here, the size of the monthly catalogue would be multiplied at least by 10, and perhaps by 20. The legislative history of bills and resolutions in Index No. 1 of the Congressional Record for the current session, covering the first 15 issues, December 2–21, fills 123 of the Record's quarto pages and contains 3,863 entries, 1,191 for the Senate and 2,672 for the House. The average number of entries in the monthly catalogue is 300, though the present number contains many more, as each number issued during the session of Congress probably will. There is no apparent occasion for duplicating the entries of bills and resolutions introduced, which are so minutely given in the Record index, and it has therefore been decided to catalogue here only those Documents, Reports, and Laws that will hereafter be found in the bound volumes forming the permanent record of the work of Congress.

METHODS OF PUBLICATION OF CONGRESSIONAL DOCUMENTS

In the belief that many readers will welcome a guide through the maze of Congressional document enumeration this note is printed.

DOCUMENTS

The distinction that had been maintained for many years between executive and miscellaneous documents disappeared with the opening of the Fifty-fourth Congress. The provision of the law of Jan. 12, 1895, that there should be but one set of publications under the specific title of "Documents" for each branch of Congress, then became operative. Instead of Senate Executive Documents and Senate Miscellaneous Documents, House Executive Documents and House Miscellaneous Documents, we have now only Senate Documents and House Documents.

Another marked change is the breaking up of House Executive Document No. 1. For a long time the entire collection of annual reports sent in with the President's message, making up what was known as "the Message and Accompanying Documents," was printed as House Executive Document No. 1. This document included the annual volume of diplomatic correspondence from the Department of State and the reports from the War, Navy, Post-Office, Interior, and Agricultural Departments, and sometimes the reports of the Civil Service Commission and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia. Nominally it included the annual reports of all the public officers who report directly to the President, but actual physical accompaniment was required, and if the reports of the Civil Service Commission and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia were belated in writing or printing, then for that year they were not counted among the "accompanying documents" and were not printed as a part of the score or so of volumes of Document No. 1. The reports of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Attorney-General, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue were not included, because those officers report to Congress and not to the President.

Now Document No. 1 has been broken up, and we find the following House Documents for the first session Fifty-fourth Congress:

No. 1. Foreign Relations, with which number the President's message is printed.
No. 2. Report of the Secretary of War (8 vols.).
No. 3. Report of the Secretary of the Navy.
No. 4. Report of the Postmaster-General.
No. 5. Report of the Secretary of the Interior (5 vols.).
No. 6. Report of the Secretary of Agriculture (2 vols.).
No. 7. Report of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia.
No. 8. Report of the Secretary of the Treasury.
No. 9. Report of the Attorney-General.
No. 10. Report of the Comptroller of the Currency (2 vols.).
No. 11. Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.
No. 12. Estimates of appropriations.
No. 13. Commerce, Navigation, and Immigration.
And so on, up to several hundred.

Documents bear a new set of numbers, beginning at No. 1, with each session, so that in each Congress there are at least two series of Documents in each house, and more if there are more than two sessions. That they may be in the hands of Members at the earliest moment, Documents are sent up to the Capitol and distributed to the Departments, legations, etc., at first in unbound form. They are subsequently bound in cloth for the use of the Departments and in sheep for distribution to the designated depositories of public documents, for the foreign exchanges, and for the Senate, House, and Congressional libraries. Though only one class of publications is specifically entitled "Documents," yet all the publications issued by direct authority of Congress are spoken of generically as "Congressional documents," and the Government publications of every kind are known as "public documents."

REPORTS

The Reports from the committees of the Senate and the House are numbered continuously through each Congress, the numbers for the second session beginning where those for the first session left off. The Reports are identified with the bills or resolutions to which they relate by the bracketed inscription [To accompany S. 1] if Senate bill No. 1 is the measure reported upon, or "S. R. 1" if it is a Senate resolution, "H. R. 1" if a House bill, and "H. Res. 1" if a House resolution.

The Reports appear at first in unbound form, and at the close of the session are gathered into volumes and bound in sheep.

BILLS

Bills also are numbered continuously through the Congress in which they originate. The small percentage of those introduced which run the gauntlet and come out laws undergo several metamorphoses. When first printed they appear in what is called "bill form"; that is, in pages of foolscap size, in large type, with wide spaces for writing in amendments, and are numbered in the order of their introduction. If they have the good fortune to be favorably reported back from a committee and placed on the Calendar of the Senate or House for further consideration, they are then again printed in bill form and receive a "Calendar number," but the original number also remains, and the bill carries two numbers during the remainder of its progress through Congress. Though the second number thus given to a bill is always spoken of as the "Calendar number," it is called the "Order No." on the printed "Calendar of Business" of the Senate.

When a Bill passes both branches of Congress and receives the approval of the President it ceases to be a Bill and becomes a law. It is then printed in "slip form"; that is, in octavo pages, but unbound. In this form it receives a new number, and is then known as "Public — No. 1" if it is a public act, or "Private — No. 1" if it happens to be a private act; or in either case by whatever other number may happen to belong to it, according to the chronological order of its approval by the President. The final form of the bill is its permanent enshrinement as a Chapter, first in the "Pamphlet Laws," printed at the end of each session, and then in the volume of "Statutes at Large," printed at the close of each Congress. The Chapter number which the enactment then receives is not the same as the Bill number, or the Calendar number, or the Slip number. The Bill and Calendar numbers are given by officers of Congress, but the Slip and Chapter numbers are given by the Department of State, and the Chapter number is arrived at in this way: When the public and private series of Slip laws are taken up for compilation in a volume of statutes, the whole number are arranged chronologically in one series without regard to their previous numbering. If there are public and private laws of the same date, precedence in number is given to the public laws. When the two series of public and private laws have thus been thrown into one chronological series they receive their chapter numbers in that order. Then, however, the public and private laws are again separated, and the public laws are printed in the first part of the book, the private laws following. Thus the chapters of public laws are in numerical order, minus those numbers which happen to be appropriated by the private laws; and the private laws are in numerical order, minus the numbers which happen to be appropriated by the public laws. This arrangement makes reference from the slip numbers to the chapter numbers, and vice versa, virtually impossible.

Private laws are defined by law to be those which are for the relief of private parties, those granting pensions, and those removing political disabilities. All others are public laws.

RESOLUTIONS

Heretofore concurrent and simple Resolutions have been printed, numbered, and bound as miscellaneous documents. Hereafter they will be printed and numbered in a series by themselves. The simple resolutions will be found only in bill form and in the Journals of the Senate and the House. By an act of the Fifty-third Congress it was directed that the concurrent resolutions should be published in the Statutes at Large, and they so appeared for the first time in volume 28, as an appendix.

All of the three forms of Resolutions, joint, concurrent, and simple, are printed in bill form on their introduction.

Joint resolutions take the same course as bills, those which are adopted by Congress and approved by the President appearing in slip form and in the Statutes at Large, and going through the various numerical transformations that have been noted under the heading "Bills." Joint resolutions must pass both Houses and go to the President. They have all the force of law.

Concurrent resolutions must pass both Houses, but do not require the President's approval, and have a limited scope.

Simple resolutions require to pass but one House, and they apply only to the few subjects over which one branch of Congress may exercise unaided jurisdiction.

NOTE.—These maps, projected without reference to political divisions, are designated by some prominent feature found on them. They are of uniform size on a scale of 1.62500, or about 1 mile to 1 linear inch on the map. They are issued as working editions for the use of geologists of the United States Geological Survey, and are not published for distribution or sale. About 900 sheets have been produced since 1883, covering, more or less, nearly every State and Territory. Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia are completely mapped. Some of the earlier maps are on a scale of 1:125000 and 1:250000.

General Note

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLISHING THE CATALOGUE

This Monthly Catalogue is issued in accordance with the provisions of section 69 of the act providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, approved January 12, 1895, which is as follows:

"SEC. 69. A catalogue of Government publications shall be prepared by the Superintendent of Documents on the first day of each month, which shall show the documents printed during the preceding month, where obtainable, and the price thereof. Two thousand copies of such catalogue shall be printed in pamphlet form for distribution."

There is no direction as to who shall make the distribution, nor to whom it shall be made. Thus far the Superintendent of Documents has exercised his own discretion in the premises. In pursuance of this discretion copies of each issue have been sent to the Senators, Representatives, and Delegates of the Fifty-fourth Congress, to the designated depository libraries, to those Government Departments, bureaus, and offices that issue public documents, to the officers of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A. (by request of the Chief of the Corps), and, finally, to those citizens who have asked for them. No arbitrary list of names of people who have expressed no interest in public documents has been made up. Only those unofficial citizens who were known to want the Catalogue have been supplied with it. By pursuing this course the small edition has thus far been saved from entire exhaustion, and it is still possible to send all the numbers except the first (Jan., 1895) free of charge to those who ask for them. It is probable, however, that it will soon be found necessary to adopt some more restrictive rule than that of "first come, first served," which has thus far been followed. More than 800 requests for the regular receipt of the Catalogue have been received from every part of this country and from several foreign countries, and every mail brings an increasing number of such requests. This statement is made in answer to inquiries for information as to the method of publication and distribution of the Catalogue.

SALES BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS

Section 61 of the act hereinbefore quoted provides as follows:

"The Superintendent of Documents is hereby authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not herein specifically directed, said cost to be estimated by the Public Printer and based upon printing from stereotyped plates; but only one copy of any document shall be sold to the same person, excepting libraries or schools by which additional copies are desired for separate departments thereof, and Members of Congress; and whenever any officer of the Government having in his charge documents published for sale shall desire to be relieved of the same, he is hereby authorized to turn them over to the Superintendent of Documents, who shall receive and sell them under the provisions of this section."

In accordance with the foregoing provisions, prices are fixed on the documents named in the Catalogue. In those cases where publications are offered for sale by the Departments issuing them, and price lists have been issued, those prices have been adopted here. In other cases the prices have been computed on the basis fixed in the law as above quoted. Except as otherwise stated in the body of the Catalogue, these computed prices call for paper or cloth covers, and a corresponding increase will be made for books bound in leather or half leather. The cost of paper covers is about 1c. per volume; of cloth cases, from 10c. to 30c. per volume; of full sheep binding, from 75c. to $1.15 per volume for octavos and $1.50 for quartos; of half russia or half turkey, $1.00 per volume.

WHERE DOCUMENTS ARE OBTAINABLE

The Official Register of the public service of the United States (Blue Book) is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. The first volume of the new issue (1895) is now ready for delivery. It contains the names, salaries, etc., of all the officers and employees of the Government except those in the postal service. Its price is $2.00. The postal volume is not yet ready for delivery.

It is the apparent intention of the new printing law (approved January 12, 1895) that the sales of public documents shall ultimately be concentrated mainly if not wholly in the office of the Superintendent of Documents. The provisions that 500 copies of each of the various departmental publications of every kind, as well as of the numbered Congressional documents, shall be sent to him (sec. 58); that all the accumulated documents in the Departments not needed for official use be sent to him now and annually (sec. 67); that any public officer having documents for sale may turn them over to him (sec. 61):—all point to such an intention. But thus far the law has been only partially operative. No public officer has sufficiently desired to be relieved of the sale of books to induce him to turn them over to this office. The collection of the accumulations from the Departments is not yet completed. The decision whether 500 additional departmental publications shall be printed for this office or 500 shall be deducted from the departmental editions has not been made. Consequently many of the current documents noted in the Monthly Catalogue can not be supplied by this office, while of the older documents, of which many thousands are here on sale, no catalogue can be furnished. Thus the selling function of the office of the Superintendent of Documents is comparatively undeveloped. But its development is progressing steadily, if not rapidly, and in the fullness of time all the results contemplated in the passage of the law by which this office was created may be realized.

The arrangements for disposing of public documents which existed before the passage of the new law are still in operation. They are extremely varied, and before the advent of the Monthly Catalogue no attempt had been made to collect them and make a combined statement for the benefit of general buyers. It is believed that the following statement describes most of their important features. It is made, however, subject to correction as further information may be received.

COURT REPORTS

The volumes of Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, perhaps the most important of all public documents, have never been published by the Government. They are published by the official reporter of the Court, through a private publishing house. There is a statutory provision that a number of copies, amounting to 300 in all, shall be furnished to various Departments of the Government free of cost, and that the price to the public shall not exceed $2.00 per volume. The cases in suits in which the United States are not plaintiff in error or appellant are also printed by contract at a private printing house. Only those documents of the Supreme Court which are printed at the Government Printing Office are noted in this Catalogue, and they are but a small part of the whole. They are printed in very limited editions for the use of the Court and attorneys, and no provision is made for their distribution or sale. By far the greater part of the publications used in the proceedings of the Court are printed by private litigants at their own cost. Occasionally, when a litigant pleads poverty, the Court makes an order that his printing shall be done at the Government Printing Office at public expense.

The documents of the Court of Claims are printed at the Government Printing Office, but only for the use of the Court, and in very limited editions. They are not accessible to the public except by consent of the attorneys in interest. The Court makes an annual report to Congress, which is a public document, and its findings are printed in annual volumes, of which only a limited edition, for official use, is issued by the Court. Private publishers, however, may, and usually do, order from the Public Printer separate editions, which they offer for sale.

CONGRESSIONAL QUOTAS

Senators and Representatives in Congress have allotments, varying in number, of nearly all kinds of Government publications, which are distributed on their order from the Senate and House folding and document rooms. Documents can often be obtained more promptly and cheaply by application to Members of Congress than to the Departments.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The Department of State distributes the Consular Reports and other departmental publications gratuitously, but sells the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, and pamphlet laws. Address Disbursing Clerk, Department of State. If drafts are sent, make them payable to his order.

The Bureau of the American Republics sells its own monthly bulletins, handbooks, etc., at from 10c. to 50c. Address the Director of the Bureau.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

The weekly Catalogue of Copyrights, prepared by the Librarian of Congress, is published by the Department of the Treasury, but is not sold by that Department, nor by the Librarian. Those desiring it must subscribe at the office of the collector of customs for the district in which they live. The price is $5.00 per year.

The Charts, Coast Pilots, and Tide-tables of the Coast and Geodetic Survey are sold at the office of the Survey, in Washington, and also by one or more sales agents in each of the important American seaports. The monthly Notice to Mariners may be had free at these agencies, at all United States custom-houses, at the branch hydrographic offices of the Navy Department, and at the office of the Coast Survey.

The Abstract of Sanitary Reports, issued weekly, showing health conditions in various parts of the country as reported by the officers of the Marine-Hospital Service and others, is for gratuitous distribution, but the edition is limited, and the document is intended only for health officers and other persons interested in sanitary affairs. To obtain it application should be made to the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, Treasury Department.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR

The volumes of the Records of the War of the Rebellion are sold by the Department of War at 50c. to 85c. per volume. Address Maj. George W. Davis, War Records Office, Department of War.

POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT

The Post-Office Department sells the post-route maps, of which new editions are issued four times a year, corrected to the 1st day of March, June, September, and December. Orders should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post-Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

The Official Postal Guide is sold by George F. Lasher, the contractor for the printing, No. 147 Tenth street, Philadelphia.

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

The Secretary of the Navy will sell the surplus copies of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies after the distribution ordered by law has been made. No copies are now available from this source, and none may be for years to come. Two volumes have thus far been published. A few copies of the first in sheep binding may be had from the Superintendent of Documents at $1.40 per copy. The officer in immediate charge of the publication, to whom inquiries may be addressed, is the Superintendent of Naval War Records, Navy Department.

The Charts, Sailing Directions, etc., of the Hydrographic Office of the Department of the Navy are sold by the Office in Washington, and also by agents at the principal American and foreign seaports and American lake ports. Copies of the weekly Notice to Mariners, weekly Hydrographic Bulletin, and monthly Notice to Mariners for the Great Lakes are supplied free on application at the Hydrographic Office in Washington and at the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland (Oreg.), Port Townsend, Chicago, and Cleveland. The same offices also supply the Light List and the Beacon and Buoy List issued by the Light-House Board.

It should be noted that there are four kinds of Notices to Mariners—one issued at frequent but irregular intervals by the Light-House Board (Treasury Department); one issued monthly by the Coast Survey (Treasury Department), and two by the Hydrographic Office (Navy Department), one of these last being weekly for the ocean and the other monthly for the Great Lakes.

The "American Ephemeris and Nautical Almanac," the "Nautical Almanac" extracted from this publication, and other astronomical publications of the Nautical Almanac Office, are sold by the Director of the Nautical Almanac, U. S. Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C., and by agents of that office in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Portland (Oreg.), Baltimore, San Francisco, London, Paris, and Berlin. The price of the Ephemeris is $1.00, and it is issued three years in advance. The Nautical Almanac is sold for half this price by the agents.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

The Decisions of the Department of the Interior in land cases and in pension cases are issued in slips and signatures at 10c. each, and in bound volumes at prices ranging from $1.05 to $1.45 per volume. Subscribers may deposit $1.00, either in the Department or in the Pension Office or the General Land Office, and receive the contents of a volume of the Decisions in separate parts as they appear. Of the Land Decisions usually two volumes are issued yearly, while the Pension-Decision volumes appear at longer intervals, sometimes more than two years apart.

Orders for the publications of the Tenth and Eleventh Censuses (1880 and 1890) should be sent to the chief clerk of the Department of the Interior, indorsed "Document Division."

The various bureaus of the Department of the Interior have extensive and important lists of publications, which may be ordered from the Department or directly from the bureaus. These include the issues of the Pension, Patent, and Land offices, the Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Education.

The publications of the United States Geological Survey include annual reports, which are intended for free distribution, and monographs, bulletins, and folios of the Geologic Atlas of the United States, which cost from 5c. to $11.00 each. Address the Director of the Survey, Washington.

The Patent Office publishes specifications and drawings of patents, both in single copies and monthly volumes, the former at 10c. and the latter at $10.00. For certified copies of Patents, including specification, drawing, certificate, and grant, the price is 85c. The weekly Official Gazette is sold at 10c. a copy or $5.00 a year. It contains lists of the new patents, numbering about 450 a week. A variety of indexes, giving a complete view of the vast work of the office from 1790 to date, are published at prices ranging from 25c. to $10.00 per volume. The Rules of Practice and pamphlet Patent Laws are furnished free. Sets of the specifications and drawings of patents will be furnished to any public library which will pay transportation on them, provide proper custody, make them conveniently accessible to the public, and bind them to correspond with the bound volumes in the Patent Office. The Patent Office issues coupon orders, ten for $1.00, each of which will be received for one specification and drawing or for one copy of the Official Gazette. They are good until used. Address the Chief Clerk, Patent Office.

Such publications of the Bureau of Education as are in print may be had gratuitously by addressing the Commissioner of Education.

The General Land Office publishes separate State maps of the States in which public lands are to be found, and also a large general map of the United States, said to be the best map of the country published, which is sold at $1.25. Address the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Those publications of the Department of Agriculture which are for sale, except those of the Weather Bureau, will hereafter be supplied by the Superintendent of Documents. The Department has no list to which all its publications are sent. It issues a monthly list of publications, which is mailed to all applicants, enabling them to select such reports and bulletins as interest them. For the publications of the Weather Bureau application should be made to the Chief of that Bureau. The serial publications of the Department are not intended for general distribution. Requests for them are referred to the divisions from which they are issued, and instructions are then sent as to how the publications may be regularly secured.

There are two Bureaus of Statistics—one in the Department of State, which issues the monthly Consular Reports, and the other in the Department of the Treasury, which issues the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration. There is also a Division of Statistics in the Department of Agriculture, which issues the monthly Crop Report.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

In its latest published catalogue and price list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution consist of Contributions to Knowledge, Miscellaneous Collections, and annual reports. No sets of these are for sale. The edition of volumes of Contributions and Collections is limited, and is distributed to designated public libraries and to learned institutions in this country and abroad. A small edition of some of the papers in the above publications is printed for sale or exchange. Those at present available are enumerated in the accompanying list. For reports of the Institution or of the National Museum application should be made to Members of Congress. For reports, etc., of the Bureau of Ethnology application should be made to Members of Congress or to the Director of the Bureau." The "accompanying list" contains 479 titles, of which 222 are priced at from 2c. to $7.50 each. The annual report is the only Smithsonian publication that is a public document. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.

VARIOUS BUREAUS

The publications of the Department of Labor and of the Fish Commission are distributed gratuitously through the heads of those Bureaus and through Members of Congress. They are in much demand, and complete sets can not much longer be supplied.

The Interstate Commerce Commission sends its reports free to all applicants.

The Government Printing Office sells the Monthly Statements of Finance, Commerce, and Immigration, compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of the Treasury; the Congressional Record, from the beginning of the Fiftieth Congress to date; the set of State Constitutions and Colonial Charters; Poore's Descriptive Catalogue of Government Publications; the Reports of the Fish Commission; the Reports on the Paris Exposition; the Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office; the Polaris Arctic Expedition; Hall's Arctic Expedition; Treaties and Conventions between the United States and other Powers, 1776–1887; Second and Third Annual Reports of the Geological Survey; Fishing Industries of the United States, five volumes; Report of Silver Commission, 1876; International Monetary Conference, 1881; and United States Infantry and Cavalry Drill Regulations.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances to the Public Printer and the Superintendent of Documents should be made always by postal money order. The Geological Survey and the War Records Office will receive currency as well as postal orders if the exact amount be sent. The State Department will receive drafts on New York or Washington banks, as well as money orders or currency. None of the Departments or Bureaus will receive individual checks or postage stamps in payment for books.

All the Government offices which have books for sale issue price lists, which will be sent free to all applicants. The prices charged are never more than cost and 10 per cent added, and frequently much less than that.

All public documents, from whatever Department or Bureau they may be bought, will be forwarded to the purchaser free of postage.
